HOW WE BECAME RENEWED

For the past 15 years, you have known us as the Eating Disorders Coalition of Tennessee (EDCT). What began as an idea sketched out on the back of a napkin in 1999 by Reba Sloan, MPH, LRD FAED and Ovidio Bermudez, MD, has grown in to an organization that serves hundreds of individuals each year. We are so proud of our history and the critical resource that we have become to help and empower individuals who suffer from eating disorders.

Over the past year, we have undergone a thoughtful and exciting rebranding process to reflect our wider and more robust capabilities as an organization and to amplify our mission. As of February 24, 2016, we are excited to now be called Renewed, Eating Disorders Support.

We hope that you will explore our new website (renewedsupport.org), engage with us a social media and join in our celebration of this milestone as we help others find courage for today, trust in recovery and hope for a renewed tomorrow.
